

CHRISTIAN APOLOGETICS: FOUR SYSTEMS

--RATIONALISM

--EVIDENTIALISM

--PRESUPPOSITIONALISM

--SUBJECTIVISM

KENNETH D. BOA

CONTENTS

Author's Preface

Introduction

 Definitions of Apologetics

 Apologetic Systems

Book One

The Purpose, History, and Method of Christian Apologetics

Summary of Book One

Chapter 1 The Purpose and Function of Apologetics

Chapter 2 A Brief History of Apologetics

 Apologetics in the New Testament

 The Patristic Era

 The Middle Ages

 From the Sixteenth through the Eighteenth Centuries

 The Nineteenth Century

 Catholic Apologetics

 Protestant Apologetics

The Twentieth Century

Catholic Apologetics

Protestant Apologetics

Chapter 3 The Method of Apologetics

Book Two

Rationalism in Christian Apologetics

Summary of Book Two

Chapter 1 The Rationalistic Defense of the Christian Religion Religious Experience

Psychology of Religion

Religious Language

Religious Epistemology

Theistic Proofs

The Problem of Evil

Ethics

Miracles

Chapter 2 The Rationalist Critique of Competing World Views Criteria of Verification

Atheism

Agnosticism

Monism

Dualism

Deism

Naturalism

Humanism

Existentialism

Panentheism

Nihilism

Theism

Chapter 3 Recent Rationalist Apologists

C. S. Lewis

Edward John Carnell

Other Rationalist Apologists

Chapter 4 The Rationalist Apologetics of Norman L. Geisler Philosophy of Religion

Religious Experience

Theistic Proofs

Religious Language

The Problem of Evil

Ethics

Apologetics

Apologetic Method

Theistic Apologetics

Christian Apologetics

Ten Issues in Apologetics

Book Three

Evidentialism in Christian Apologetics

Summary of Book Three

Chapter 1 The Evidentialist Defense of the Christian Religion Theology as an Empirical Science

The Empirical Approach to the Philosophy of Religion

Empirical Verification

Natural Theology

Critique of Nontheistic World Views

Historiography

Chapter 2 The Evidentialist Defense of the Bible The Historical Reliability of the Bible

The Phenomenon of Israel

Fulfilled Prophecy

Miracles

The Resurrection of Christ

The Claims and Credentials of Christ

The Uniqueness of the Bible

Christian Experience

General Christian Evidences for Biblical Reliability

Inspiration and Authority of the Bible

Science and the Bible

Chapter 3 Recent Evidentialist Apologists John H. Gerstner

Clark H. Pinnock

Josh McDowell

Chapter 4 The Evidentialist Apologetics of John Warwick Montgomery
Historical Apologetics

Empirical Verification

Methodological Presuppositions

Historiography

Resurrection Apologetic

Theistic Apologetics

Contingency Argument from the Second Law of Thermodynamics

Theistic Argument from the Semi-Transcendent "I"

Transcendental Ethics

Biblical Apologetics

Biblical Revelation

Biblical Criticism

Biblical Inspiration and Inerrancy

Theological Critiques

Other Apologetic Approaches

Ten Issues in Apologetics

Book Four

Presuppositionalism in Christian Apologetics

Summary of Book Four

Chapter 1 The Presuppositionalist Defense of the Christian Religion
Faith and Reason

Epistemological Verification

Theistic Proofs

Critiques of Other World Views

Critiques of Other Philosophers and Theologians

Chapter 2 Recent Presuppositionalist Apologists
Carl F. H. Henry

Gordon H. Clark

Francis A. Schaeffer

Other Presuppositional Apologists

Abraham Kuyper

Herman Dooyeweerd

D. H. Th. Vollenhoven

Robert L. Reymond

Greg L. Bahnsen

John C. Whitcomb, Jr.

Chapter 3 The Presuppositional Apologetics of Cornelius Van Til
Introduction

Apologetic Method

Reformed Versus Arminian Apologetics

Natural Theology and General Revelation

Presupposition of Biblical Authority

Epistemology

Regenerate and Unregenerate Reason

Common Ground and the Point of Contact

Analogical Knowledge and Apparent Antinomies

Van Til's Epistemic Argument

The Problem of the One and the Many

Other Apologetic Issues

Van Til's Approach to Evidences

The Person of Christ

Christian Ethics

Psychology of Religion

Philosophical and Theological Critiques

Ten Issues in Apologetics

Book Five

Subjectivism in Christian Apologetics

Summary of Book Five

Chapter 1 The Subjectivist Defense of the Christian Religion
Faith and Reason

Epistemological Verification

Natural Theology and Theistic Proofs

Approach to History

Chapter 2 Early and Recent Subjectivist Apologists
Blaise Pascal

Friedrich Schleiermacher

Rudolf Otto

Karl Barth

Emil Brunner

Warren C. Young

Earl E. Barrett

Chapter 3 The Subjectivist Apologetics of Soren Kierkegaard
Introduction

Barriers to True Faith

Speculation and Hegelianism

Professing Christendom

God as Wholly Other

Criticism of Traditional Apologetics

Theistic Proofs

Historical Evidences

The Nature of Man

Dialectic of Inwardness

The Aesthetic Stage

The Ethical Stage

The Religious Stage

Faith and Reason

Existential Truth

Tests of the Truth of Christianity

Ten Issues in Apologetics

Book Six

Diversity and Resolution

Summary of Book Six

Chapter 1 Comparison and Contrast of the Four Apologetic Systems
The Relationship Between Philosophy and Christianity

The Value of Theistic Proofs

The Theory of Truth

The Noetic Effects of Sin

The Character of Revelation

The Question of Probability Versus Certainty

The Problem of Common Ground or Point of Contact

The Character of Faith

The Status of Christian Evidences

The Relationship Between Faith and Reason

Chapter 2 Strengths and Weaknesses of the Four Systems as Perceived by Representative Apologists

Strengths of Rationalist Apologetics

Inescapability of the Fundamental Laws of Thought

Importance of the Imago Dei

Need for an Interpretive Framework

Need for Comprehensiveness in Testing the Truth of a World

View

The Coherence of Faith and Reason

Weaknesses of Rationalist Apologetics

Inadequacies of Pure Rationalism

Insufficient Test for Truth

Theistic Arguments Are Inconclusive

Lack of Universally Acceptable Criteria

Minimizes the Noncognitive and Personal Dimension of Truth

Strengths of Evidentialist Apologetics

Decisions Are Based on Probability, Not Deductive Certainty

Importance of the Imago Dei

Emphasis on the Commonality of Logic and Experience

Stress on the Historicity of Christianity

External and Objective Evidence for Christian Truth Claims

Weaknesses of Evidentialist Apologetics

Evidentialists Use Hidden Presuppositions

Historical Events Are Not Self-Interpreting

Weaknesses of Inductive Argumentation

Problematic Assumption that People Approach Evidence in an Open and Unprejudiced Way

Evidentialism Is an Incomplete Apologetic

Strengths of Presuppositionalist Apologetics

Presuppositions Are Unavoidable

Emphasis on the Fact-Meaning Distinction

Consistency with Biblical Theology

Alternative to the Deficiencies of Traditional Apologetic

Methodology

Recognition of the Effects of Sin in the Mind and Will

Weaknesses of Presuppositionalist Apologetics

Problems with an Axiomatic Approach to Truth

Excessive Fideism

Unwarranted Rejection of Logical and Empirical Modes of

Thought

Minimizes Common Ground Between Christians and Non-Christians

Impracticality of Presuppositionalism

Strengths of Subjectivist Apologetics

Stresses the Uniqueness of Each Individual

Involves the Whole Person

Recognizes the Moral and Spiritual Environment

Emphasis on the Experiential Knowledge of God

The Need for Complete Commitment

Weaknesses of Subjectivist Apologetics

Minimizes External Verification

Unnecessary Breach Between Faith and Reason

The Limitations of Experience

Reduces the Factual Content of Scripture and History

False Disjunction Between the Personal and the Propositional

Chapter 3 Toward an Effective Synthesis

The Dilemma

The Synthesis

Recommendations for Further Study